

LESSON TWENTY ONE
UNDERSTANDING HARVEST
TEXT: MARK 4:26-29

MEMORY VERSE: GENESIS 8:22

"While the earth remains, seedtime and harvest, cold and heat, summer and winter, day and night shall not cease."

CENTRAL TRUTH: The time of harvest is not solely a period for receiving; it also entails responsibilities.

Introduction: As followers of Christ, we must exercise wisdom, for our God is the source of wisdom. When we sow correctly, we invite God to bring about an increase. We must not permit anything to jeopardize our harvest. This study serves as a reminder that God is the ultimate provider and that His timing is impeccable. James 1:25

LESSON OUTLINE

A. Principles of harvest

1. Wherever you receive spiritual blessings, you incur a spiritual obligation - Galatians 6:6.

To reap a harvest of blessings, we must share all good things with those who teach us the ways of God.

2. You will reap what you sow - Galatians 6:7-8, Luke 6:38

The nature of your sowing determines the outcome. Furthermore, one cannot continuously sow to the flesh and then complain when the harvest of corruption arises.

3. Reaping a godly harvest necessitates patience and persistence - 1 Corinthians 15:58, Galatians 6:9

In the process of receiving a godly harvest, God aims to develop our character. He desires to cultivate a people capable of managing and multiplying the harvest when it arrives.

4. Do not request rain when there are no seeds - Genesis 2:4-8

If rain falls on a field devoid of good seeds, it will become overrun with weeds. Likewise, as we pray for revival rain, we must prepare the field. How long can we expect rain to fall while we keep the seeds indoors without planting them?

5. An abundant harvest requires abundant sowing: Ecclesiastes 11:1

"Cast your bread upon the waters" is a proverb that advocates for generosity and taking risks, especially in charitable acts or business, with the hope of a future return, though not necessarily immediate.

QUESTION: Is it possible to have a poor or bad spiritual field? If so, what occurs when we sow in such a field?

CONCLUSION: When the Holy Spirit urges us to sow, we must act swiftly because there's time for everything.
