INTRODUCTION

To be loyal signifies being faithful, true as a lover, steadfast in allegiance, and personally devoted to a leader or an organization; this definition serves as the focal point of today's study on loyalty. In essence, a loyal individual must embody the qualities of: Faithfulness, Availability, Commitment, Teachability, and Submissiveness.

Lesson Outline

A. THE SIGNIFICANCE OF LOYALTY

1. Loyalty, more than ability, is a fundamental requirement for every worker, minister, leader, etc. It is essential for stewards that a person be found faithful, as stated in 1 Corinthians 4:2.

2. Loyalty carries significant implications for the growth of churches and businesses. Churches should be led by individuals who are loyal and faithful. Engaging disloyal individuals poses a danger, as highlighted in Psalm 78:8.

3. Loyalty is crucial for sustaining a long-lasting ministry. "Loyalty and faithfulness preserve the king, and his throne is upheld by righteousness" (Prov. 20:28, RSV).

4. A loyal individual is rewarded with an increase in various areas from God. Indeed, loyalty serves as the master key to expansion, as seen in Matthew 25:21 and Proverbs 28:20.

5. Loyal individuals experience the favor of God, as noted in Psalm 41:11.

6. The devil excels at undermining the church from within, particularly where the 3Ms are present: Money – Matthew 26:14-16, Miracles – 2 Kings 5:25-27, Matthew 24:24, and Multitude – Exodus 32:1-4.

CONCLUSION: We cannot serve in disloyalty and anticipate blessings. Our services are seeds that will advocate for us. Loyalty is a prerequisite for honor and promotion.
